Theresa May's deal gets thumbs down in Northampton North survey

Theresa May's deal emerged as the least favoured Brexit option in a survey conducted by Sally Keeble, Labour's parliamentary candidate for Northampton North.

In the survey leaving the EU with no deal was the most favoured option, with delaying or cancelling Brexit the second favourite.

Sally Keeble says:

"Theresa May is a roadblock to Brexit. She's had over two years to bring the country together around a way forward. Rather than build a consensus she's cobbled together a terrible deal that would damage the country and leave us in Brexit limbo."

Respondents to the survey who expressed a political preference were divided 31 percent for Labour and 35 per cent for the Conservatives.

When asked what they thought of what had happened so far on Brexit 46 per cent said progress had been too slow, 22 per cent said Brexit was a risk to their living standards, 34 per cent said they were against Brexit and two per cent said they didn't know.

When asked what they thought should happen now, they replied:

100% Brexit - leave with no deal - 42%

Brexit should be delayed or cancelled - 28%

Let the public decide – a people's vote - 25%

I support Theresa May's compromise - 20%

I don't know/am not concerned - 4%

Ends
